

Even as an American citizen, I have more rights to freedom of travel outside the US than I do inside. The watch lists maintained by the TSA are an affront to the principles on which this country was founded.